My name is Aleah Marie, I am seven years old and my dreams and goals include becoming one of the best student athletes I possibly can be. I enjoy watching anything gymnastics and cheer related and imitating the athletes. I love being in the gym and really enjoy learning new skills. I think it's so cool to repeatedly train your body so you have full control over your flexibly and tumbling/stunts. Challenges include making time for different things in my life, school always comes first and so does my homework. I practice at the gym right after school, and have private lessons and tumbling classes, not to mention I attend swimming lessons and love playing with my toys, and my little sister. With that being said it's difficult to be successful at all these things at the same time, I love family time and going to Disney with my family but sometimes our time is cut short, because of our hectic schedule, but I'm sure all the hard work will pay off.

My name is Amanda va Wezel, I'm from 1998 living in The Netherlands. I've been dreaming of becoming a model ever since I was little. unfortunately I became chronically ill. At the time of my diagnoses I thought there were no more possibilities, but after training a lot and getting fitter I've reached a level where I can do what I like, even if it takes good planning. I can model, I can go to festivals, I can work, I can own my householdings, everything I thought I couldn't do anymore.. I can. now I'm living by the phrase YES YOU CAN. because I've seen that bears on the road are there to conquer.

I grew up being very ambitious and wanting to inspire as many people as I could and still do. Inspiring people gives me purpose. I enjoy making other people happy or make them forget what bad things lie ahead for them. I've been dancing and preforming since I was 3. I continued to be an extremely creative kid. I love music, singing, and dabble with instruments as I was in many theatre productions in school. I don't care about fame or attention. I care about the impact I have on people and this world, and I want it to be good. I have many huge ambitions in my life. I've always wanted to pursue music and become an artist. I've always wanted to be a pro dancer, work on broadway, become a movie actor, or even just being able to reach people through social media. Dance was a big part of my life growing up and so was my depression and anxiety. It would hold me back, make me crawl into a little hole of doubtfulness and helplessness. It effected my dance to where I was going to be held back a team. I tried to better my self with therapy and pushing through. The next year I skipped the upper team to an even more advanced dance team. I soon started to realized what gets me out of my depression. I don't ever want to let it hold me back from what I want. I still struggle immensely with mental health issues and continue to get over the huge disadvantages they give me. I want to inspire people with the same issues that they can do it and that they will get through the it. They're are able to become happy and do what they want with their life. Don't let it control you.
