My name is Alice. I don't like to talk about my places and goals. But I can say about my achievements. When I was diligently engaged in Kick boxing, I went to competitions where I took 2nd place. In rhythmic gymnastics, gymnastics, we did not have competitions, but I can sit on the splits, get to the top of my head and many other interesting things. And if you touch a little on the topic with goals, I can say that I want to learn English, Korean and I want to live in Dubai

My Ambitions and dreams.

Fear of failure, Striving for that perfect moment I don't care if its technically perfect, I do care it reveals a truth and an emotion. Whisper this quietly I don't like Cartier Bresson his work leaves me cold. Capra and Macullen are perhaps my two early influences, their immediacy raw brutal approach to the work hits you where the heart is. Cecil Beaton was an amazing Photographer I was lucky enough to catch the recent retrospective world tour his estate gave. His images are emotive, cold, full of subtle movement and yet as still as a vase. Yet in each one of them you can connect with his subject be it the Queen of England or Nureyev. Hurrle and his like taught me how a person should be idealised refined as a concept, stripped of all complex lighting, revealed to be icons with rock hard light, a pose and a vision. Bailey is so simple he is too complicated for me, I have looked and looked at his work. It is refined, styled by a vision, crafted out of love and lust and presented in a way that doesn't give a damn. He likes it he presents it he doesn't care. Perhaps the true mark of a Master. Carlos Clark was someone I studied long and hard, looking at old articles, interviews, I was always striving to get at least two percent of his work and vision in my printing and photography. I didn't even get close to that. Just the raw Sexuality and sensuality of his vision exploded off the pages of magazines, stark mono the interplay of light on latex and the curve and shadow in juxtaposition to the angularity of his sets. The antithesis of Bailey but two masters who shared a vision and only cared about their own photographic voice.

Crystal Wilkins 35, has been modeling my clothing brand Colors Are Beautiful for 2 years straight. She is also my Muse. I met her on Facebook for the first time. Then I learned that she also has Instagram. So we have a tight working relationship. She has been modeling for my Virtual Fashion Show back in August of 2021 which was last year and she strut the runway at home flawlessly. I was so pleased with her catwalk. She has modeled all of my genre of clothing from swimwear, outerwear, classy dresses, glam wear, African wear and etc. There is more to come. She is not just a model she is also an Entrepreneur, Author, Actress and Brand Ambassador. I always love it when my Models are Multi-talented. Speaking of owning a business the name of her Business is Chocolate Diamond Entertainment LLC. She has her own book called The Hood Way. So she always staying busy. I am so glad that I selected her as one of my Models because I knew that she was going to represent my clothing brand first. Actually she hit me up on Facebook inquiring about my designs and wanting to Model them. I willingly said yes. She has been on Magazine covers. Like this Summer she made it on the front cover of a magazine and so did my African Print outfit design. She really represented my African Print outfit design well that's why it made the front cover. Her goal is to continue to make it on the front cover of any other magazine. Also so do I. I am planning on doing another Virtual Fashion Show next year so stay tuned. I would recommend Crystal 100 percent.

Isaura Smets

My name is isaura Smets. I'm a figure skater since a year now. I started to go with a friend from my class for a try-out but from the moment I set a foot on the ice, I lost my heart to it, so I went in the beginning every Saturday morning. In January 2021, I applied for figure skating and I started to train every Tuesday and Friday evening. I look forward to go 2 times a week, I love this sport with all my heart ♥️ . I learned so much in the past year and I hope to learn so much more. I also take private lessons to accomplish my flexibility skills.

My goals are to go next year into the ice skating competition and in a few years to be at the top 🥳 I'm prepared to train hard for this and to accomplished everything there is to accomplish. This is everything for me and my mom is my biggest fan, she supports me in everything I do, she's always there to cheer me up if something doesn't work right away, but she knows that I train hard! I love everything about this sport, the hard training, the clothes, the ice... It's what I want to do in my life and in my future ♥️

My name is Seanna Tate and I am a trans woman. I have always been interested in becoming a recognized model and I have already begun my journey to achieving my goals and dreams. I have taken it upon myself to further my knowledge of the entertainment industry by taking acting and modeling classes through John Casablancas and it has served me well as I will be graduating soon.

While I may enjoy my time in front of a camera very much I also spend my time as an amateur photographer, musician, and actress. I started getting into photography when I was a kid and have always enjoyed the art of capturing creative perspectives of the world we live in and the life around us. Photography got me into modeling as I wanted to better understand how to instruct and work with models. Little did I know just how much I'd enjoy being a model. As a musician I started as a child in kindergarten playing and studying the violin until my high school years. During my elementary school years I picked up how to play the piano as well as the guitar. I purchased my first instrument, the mandolin, at the end of my freshman year of high school and have been playing ever since.

I pride myself in being an artistic individual and hope to learn even more in the future. My dreams and goals are both attainable and possible all I have to do is keep a positive attitude and a healthy mindset. The biggest challenge I have is myself. Modeling has helped me become more confident in my own skin and my body but I still struggle with body dysphoria as there are aspects of myself I wish were not a reality. I struggle every day to find the energy to do menial daily tasks and chores and as much as I attempt to keep a positive mindset my natural go to is negativity towards myself. I am my own obstacle and I have yet to conquer myself but life is just that. Learning what you need, what makes you tick, and how best to help yourself. Modeling is my saving grace as I thrive in that environment and love everything about it.

I am Shine Chavez, a new and aspiring model who started in June 2022. As a very new model who has done several activities that would have surprised my past self, and I want to continue to surprise myself yesterday with myself today. If there is one thing that I have learned from modeling it is that it is a learning experience. You learn, not only from the people around you but also from both rejection and acceptance. The most important part of modeling is how you choose to become better with what you have learned.
